Dear Dr. El Bassam,

The development with the Filter Machine goes ahead but not fast. In Uganda the economic conditions are getting worse very quickly and means there is almost no investment.

But in Nigeria we are now preparing to not only launch the filter machine but also go into the task of drilling boreholes. An Austrian NGO supports us with one set of equipment and my partner has purchased an additional set. At the end of October everything together will be sent to Nigeria and I myself will go when things are prepared.
